LET'S KNOW OUR PINES

By A. H. Antonio, Project
Forester, Ozark, Ala.

Wherever I go in this area I find that there is considerable confusion as to what pine is what. I find most people classifying our pines as Longleaf, Shortleaf, and Rosemary. The pines found in South Alabama are Longleaf, Slash, Loblolly, Shortleaf, Spruce and Pond.

The Longleaf Pine

This is an evergreen tree sometimes 120 feet in height with a diameter of 3 feet or more. It is often found in the lower places mixed with Slash pine and on the higher, drier sandy sites mixed with scrub oaks or in pure stands.

The bark is a light orange brown, separating on the surface into large, thin scales. The straw is found three to a bundle, and is 8 to 18 inches long. The branches are thick and naked with the green straw in a thick tuft at the ends. The cones are the largest of the local pines and are 6 to 10 inches long.

The wood is heavy, hard, strong, mainly coarse-grained, durable, red or orange-colored heartwood with cream-colored sapwood that is not very durable. The wood is used for construction, flooring, shipbuilding, railroad cars, boxes, poles, piling, etc. Longleaf and Slash pines are the two turn-of-the-century trees of the United States. Freshly cut heartwood has a definite resinous smell.

There is no time in this period during which he could not gather fresh vegetables from it. If it can be done at Auburn, it can be done in Coffee County. Start now in your garden and don't ever stop.

GARDENS

There are some 250 4-H boys and girls in Coffee County who now have gardens. They have plans for keeping their gardens growing the year round. They are developing a great interest in home food production and should be commended for their splendid projects.

4-H GARDENS

BORON FOR GARDENS

One of the so-called minor elements, boron, will help prevent discoloration of certain crops such as turnips, beets, radishes, and carrots. Boron should be applied at the rate of 20 to 15 pounds per acre in the form of a water-soluble boron. One or two level tablespoons per 100 foot row. Mix it with fertilizer or in some solution to assure even distribution.

PUNISHED HOGS

4-H boys and girls are taking quite an interest in purchased hogs with sixty odd registered pigs and hogs owned by 4-H members in various parts of the county. Two registered pigs were placed this week by Milton Martin of Elba, and Randolph Clark, of Mt. Pleasant 4-H club. Many others have calls for them and will be placed as soon as they are available.

Mr. W. A. Ruffin, garden extension specialist, not only talks garden but practices it. He says that in his garden at Auburn there have been one month in three years (December 1945) in which nothing was planted; and that there

Messrs W. F. Fortner and Guy Polom made a business trip to Anniston the latter part of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Rowe, of Montgomery, were visitors to Elba Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Bryan went to Wetumpka Sunday to attend the funeral of Mr. Hunter Gelson.

Mrs. D. J. Brooks and Mr. H. J. Jeter, in Anniston last week attended Mrs. Jeter's eighty-eighth birthday celebration.

Mrs. Sam Byrd, of Cordelle, Ga., is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. English.

On the 27th of April Miss Olga Skinner, of Atlanta, Ga. Mrs. C. C. Player and daughter, Mrs. Guy Thornton, of Columbus, Ga. visited their sister, Mrs. H. I. Boland, and other relatives.

Popularity of Citrus

Shows Increasing Growth

Over a 30-year period the average production of citrus fruit increased a little more than sevenfold, and the farm value of the crop increased about 100 per cent. American growers sold the expanded crops for a little more than seven times as much as they did the earlier crops.

For the five crops from 1919 to 1944, the average production was a little less than 6,000,000 tons, compared with an average of about 80,000 tons for 1909 to 1914. Values increased from roughly $30,000,000 to about $225,000,000 as annual averages for the two five-year periods.

Grapefruit did not become commercially important until later than oranges and lemons. In the five-year period beginning in 1909 grapefruit production was about one-tenth as great as orange production, but in recent years grapefruit has gained and now equals about half the orange tonnage. The first 10-million-box crop of grapefruit was in the 1928 to 1929 season, but in 1943 to 1944 grapefruit production was more than 50 million boxes and about half of this was processed.

TOMORROWTOWN isn't its name. But it is in Alabama. There are really a number of Tomorrowtowns in Alabama. We call them that because they're the towns in Alabama that will become little cities—they're the little cities that will become bigger ones.

What, besides access to raw materials, churches and schools, good water, dependable utilities, adequate transportation facilities and a population trained or ready to be trained in skilled work, do the Tomorrowtowns of Alabama have?

They have these things: citizens of vision, enthusiasm and courage—citizens who know the advantages of their town and pass up no opportunity to tell others about them. They also know its disadvantages and strive to correct them. The Tomorrowtowns have clean and neat business and residential sections, so that a stranger (who may be an industrialist seeking a location for a plant) will promptly say to himself, "This is a good town." Tomorrowtown's business men constantly suggest to the traveling salesmen who call on them that Tomorrowtown is the place to consider when their firms decide to put up another plant.

In Alabama's Tomorrowtowns are men who are constantly striving even in times of criticism and discouragement—men who keep always shining before them—year after year—their goal of making their town a better place in which to live and make a living.

Our Industrial Development Department is always glad to work with groups of citizens who have as their goal the sound industrial development of their communities.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Lesson for May 19

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts are subject of copyright by the International Council of Religious Education, used by permission.

A FRIEND WHO LEARNED TO BELIEVE

LESSON TEXT—John 11: 7, 8, 10, 20: 24-29.

MEMORY SELECTION—Blessed are they that have not seen, and yet have believed.—John 20: 29.

Doubt and faith—both seem to come to the hearts and minds of men. Yet they are directly contradictory to one another and cannot exist together. To believe is to drive out doubt, and when doubt comes in, faith loses its grip.

Thomas, and his experience following the resurrection of our Lord, presents a lesson on what a man can do to meet honest doubt and how such a man can come out into the sunshine of faith.

We find in Thomas, first, an expression of

1. Fearless Loyalty (John 11: 7, 8, 10).

Unafraid of the threats of men, Jesus was about to go once more into Judea. On his last two visits there, the Jews had sought to kill him, namely, at the feast of tabernacles (John 8: 59) and at the feast of dedication (John 10: 31).

He was not one to draw back for the fear of men when the Father's will led him forward in his service to humanity. Lazarus was dead, and Mary and Martha needed him and he was going to them.

Then came a fine expression of the loyalty of Thomas. If his Lord was going to face death, he was willing to go along and die with him. Let us recognize that here was a man of real courage, willing to show his loyalty even by giving his life.

There is something fine about that attitude, and something which shows us that when this man later expressed doubt, it was not the silly and shallow unbelief of a trifler. This man loved the Lord and served him, and yet he failed him.

When we think we are strong, we had better watch out lest we fail. Let us be clear and triumphant in our declaration of loyalty to Christ, both by word and by life. And then let us set a double guard against the enemy of our souls.

Thomas next appears in

II. Faithless Failure (John 16: 24, 25).

He had been willing to die for his Lord, or with him, but now the Lord had been taken by wicked hands and crucified. He and the disciples were alone to face a hostile world, at least so it seemed to them.

The awful day of crucifixion preyed heavily upon the mind of Thomas. That is evident from verse 25. He had been thinking of those awful bleeding wounds, and had forgotten about the promises of resurrection.

Jesus died, and that is a precious truth; but one must not stop there, for a dead Saviour is no Saviour at all. Thomas got sidetracked in his thinking. Let us not make the same mistake.

Another reason for his failure was that he did not go to the meeting of his brethren. Perhaps he did not feel like going and did not think it was any use to go. Ah, but that's just the time one needs the fellowship of other believers. Go, and you will meet the Lord!

The Lord was there and Thomas missed him. We, too, will miss the Lord and his blessing if we stay away from his house and the meeting of his people.

Having gone thus far in discouragement and unbelief, it was easy for Thomas to take the next step and demand physical proof of the resurrection. His despondency had now reached the place of making unreasonable demands and of discrediting the witness of others.

We are glad that we can close our study on the note of renewed faith and of

III. Full Confession (John 16: 28-29).

Note that the Lord was ready fully to meet the demands of Thomas, even though they were on the unreasonable side. That was undoubtedly because he knew the essential fineness and truthfulness of Thomas.

His doubts were unfortunate and entirely unnecessary, but they were genuine. No real doubter will ever remain one long, for if he brings a genuine doubt to the Lord, he will find it fully met. It is the triflers, those who use their doubts to hide their sins, and those who are unwilling to bring their dark thoughts into the light of the presence of Jesus, who go on doubting year after year.

Notice the comment of Jesus following the glad and complete confession of faith by Thomas. It is a good thing to believe because one has seen and been convinced. That is proper and blessed.

But the real fullness of blessing comes to the one who can rise to faith in Christ because of his word, quite apart from the visible or tangible evidence. This is real Christian faith which declares Christ to be our Lord and our God, the one whom having not seen, we love (1 Pet. 1: 8).

Soil Conservation Over Coffee County

By G. L. Edwards, Soil Conservationist

During the next few weeks there will be approximately 1500 acres of blue lupine harvested in Coffee County. A majority of the farmers harvesting blue lupine seed are cooperating with the Wiregrass Soil Conservation District, some of whom are: A. L. Moates, S. O. Parker, F. E. Meeks and John B. Johnson. Depending upon weather conditions at harvesting time, the average yield this spring should be around 1000 pounds per acre.

Winter legumes such as blue lupine are only one phase of a complete soil-building and improvement program. The use of a good summer legume such as crotalaria, which can be seeded in early corn at "lay-by" time, is another important part of the program. Some of the farmers who are planning to plant crotalaria for this purpose are: John A. Bass, Rush Arnold, J. D. Gunter, Otis Byrd, O. L. Benton and Edgar Blalock.

Farmers who have timber to the young, vigorous growing trees for a future or continuous income. The Forester's services are available to all woodland owners in the county who desire assistance and advice in marketing their timber or in any other phase of woodland management. Farmers wishing pine seedlings to plant this winter should place their orders immediately. Blank order forms may be secured from the County Agent or Soil Conservationist.

RECRUITING OFFICER WILL VISIT ELBA EACH THURSDAY

Recruiting Officer Cpl. Clair Gerry, of Troy, announces that he will be at the City Hall in Elba each Thursday from 10:30 a. m. to 4:00 p. m. All persons interested in joining the military service will be courteously received by Recruiting Officer Gerry, who succeeds Sgt. Taylor.

Mrs. F. A. Farris and children, Johnnie and Sandra, visited relatives in Montgomery last Friday and Saturday. Mr. Farris joined them and returned with them to Elba. He has been working in Mississippi for the Federal Land Bank for several weeks, but has been transferred to Alabama, which will enable him to be at home more often.

ELBA MAN FELT LIKE SWOLLEN BALLOON, FULL OF STOMACH GAS

Recently an Elba man stated that he used to feel like a swollen balloon, full of gas, after eating. He would float full of gas and spit up acidulous liquids for hours after eating. Was terribly constipated. This man is one of the hundreds in this vicinity who now praise INNER-AID. He states he was amazed at the results when he took this medicine. Now he eats what he wants without gas or bloating. His bowels are regular. Very unfavorable.

Mr. Sam E. Sawyer has returned from a business trip to New York City. He says he found market and transportation conditions very unfavorable.

Mr. English Thanks Citizens of Coffee

TO THE PEOPLE OF COFFEE COUNTY:

I take this method of expressing my appreciation to you who supported my candidacy for Probate Judge of Coffee County in the Primary Election on May 7th. I want each and every one of you to know that if it had not been for your help I could not have been nominated for this high office, and I shall ever be grateful to you.

It will be my endeavor to serve the people of Coffee County in a courteous and efficient manner at all times, and I trust that I may have the co-operation of all citizens to this end:

Sincerely,

J. Oscar English
